MOUNT VERNON,

Near Naskville, Tennessee.

THE Sisters of the Order of St. Dominie, well known competent directors of female education, respectfully america to the citizens of Nashvile and to the public in general, that they are preparing and will be ready to receive pupils of the above institution on the 1st of October. The Academy is about a taile from the city, thy locations in its vicinity.

The Ladies of this Institution being specially devoted to the education of the young of their own sex, will leave nothing undone to impart to the pupils confi-

ed to their care a thorough education, in highest sense of the word. The religion professed by the indics of the Institution is the Catholic, and they will impart special religious instruction to pupils professing that faith. Pupils of every religious denomination will be attnitted, and no undue influence will be used to bias or guardians. Uniformity and good order, however,

equire the attendance of all at morning and evening

rayers, and at the religious exercises on Sunday.

OUR MILITARY EDITOR .- A few days since he Home Secretary of our Military Editor eceived from Hartsville, Sumner county, the following card:

To the Military Editor of the Patriot .-- Your prescace is requested at a Volunteer Dinner of the 1st Regiment of Tennessee Volunteers, at Hartsville, Tenn. on the 21st inst.

By order of the Committee, Sept. 11, 1860.

We respectfully solicit the privilege of assuring the Committee that should our Miliary Editor return to the United States in ime, he will not fail to do himself the honor to be present on the occasion in question .-We beg leave to say further that our Military Editor cherishes no unnatural repugnance to a good dinner, and that he can concieve of no dinner he had rather sit down to than that of the gallant First Regiment of the Tennessee Velanteers.

But our Military Editor's very able corps of physicians having recommended, after an unbroken consultation of three weeks, a cool climate as the surest means of razing o'er the written troubles of the brain and plucking the rooted sting of sorrow from the heart, he. a short time since, laid aside his sword for a harpoon and double-barrel gun, and went to the North of Greenland for the purpose of hunting health, whales, white bears and Esquimaux. We cannot, in justice to the world, longer disguise the extremely painful and melancholy fact that since the unfortunate termination of his well-known affaire du cour with the beautiful and accomplished though sadly misguided Imperial Princess of the Celestial Empire, our Military Editor's general health has not been as robust as formerly. In fact, his life was at one time dispaired of, and it is still seriously feared that unless the licker retailed by the North-Greenlanders should possess much finer medicinal virtues than we have reason to anticipate, he will never return to the land of which he is at once the chief pride and ornament until he is borne back in a patent cast-iron burial case. In that case-if in the mean time he should be called to lay down his sword and his laurels and go to slumber in that silent realm where the pilgrim to the shrine of the unforgotten hero lingers

"Among the knightly brasses of the graves,

he will of course not be expected at Harts ville on the 21st.; but we shall place a large company of his friends and relations under the command of his administrator and send them up to represent him.

State Fair-Third Day.

The Fair continues to increase in interest, and the number of people in attendence grows larger each day. The amphitheatre presented a fine apprearance vesterday, thronged as it was by the hearty of this and the neighboring counties. Floral Hall was the chief attraction to the ladies, and was pretty well crowded throughout the day. Some very fine stock was shown, and some skillful horsemanship was exhibited in the ring. This is expected to be among the most interesting days of the Fair, and the attendance will be very large. We append a list of the premiums awarded yesterday:
